City kicks off “Breakfast with Santa” for community Annual family event helps ring in holiday spirit

BALDWIN PARK, Calif. (November 29, 2016) – Santa Claus is coming to this town, and officials are inviting the community to join him for breakfast this weekend.

On Saturday beginning at 8 a.m., families and local residents may participate in the Department of Recreation and Community Services’s annual “Breakfast with Santa” event at the Julia McNeill Senior Center, 4100 Baldwin Park Blvd. The holiday celebration is open to the public and is scheduled to conclude by 11 a.m.

Tickets, which can be purchased at the event, cost $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for children. Participants will have the opportunity to enjoy pancakes, sausage, and eggs with the holiday icon. Free holiday arts and crafts at Santa’s Workshop, as well as a visit with Santa, will also be featured during this longtime Baldwin Park tradition. Keepsake photos with Santa will available for $3, according to organizers.

Helen Hernandez, who is spearheading plans for Saturday’s event, said “Breakfast with Santa” is a family-oriented program that provides a great morning of enjoyment of all the residents of Baldwin Park and surrounding communities.
